THUMPING HEADACHES.

Many Norway Women Have Them, but Few Know the Real Cause.

Dull, thumping headaches, Sick, prostrating headaches, Dizzy, whirling, blind headaches—Point to disorders of the kidneys. Tell of uric poisons in the blood. Narcotics may ease the pain. But won't cure the cause. Doan's Kidney Pills cure the kidneys. Remove uric poisons, purify the blood, Banish headache, backache, urinary ills.

Here's South Paris testimony to prove it.

Mrs. Susan F. Harlow, living on Skillings Avenue, South Paris, Me., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills on several occasions and have always found them to be a very good kidney remedy. They soon strengthened my kidneys and were very efficient in relieving the dull headaches from which I suffered so severely. Recently feeling that my kidneys needed a tonic, I procured Doan's Kidney Pills from F. A. Shurtleff & Co.'s drug store and had taken but a few doses when I was relieved."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and no other.

The Call of the Crows.

Sweet nature's harmonies! Warm winds that rush Through swinging boughs and bowing under brush Make music that my soul loves best and knows. There is no music in the call of the crows; But when it falls upon the careless ear Accompanied by sounds both old and queer, The tumbledle of the past comes back, And the thrush sings in some low sequestered nook, The squirrel's cross complaining overhead, And the cricket's note, then let me tread The mating crew from hostile audiences. I know just where a bed of violets is; There let me sit just at the close of day, Where crows call late, to watch the squirrels play.

A Child's Letter.

The 4th Grade children of the Hamilton school, Spokane, Wash., have written letters to the 4th Grade children of Norway. Here is one:

Spokane, Wash., March 23, 1909. DEAR FRIEND—I am going to tell you about Spokane, the city in which I live. Spokane is built in a valley and in this valley runs the Spokane river. It has two falls that are very beautiful.

We have 33 schools, and our school is named after Mr. Hamilton. Our school is as good as any school. We have six rooms in our school. My teacher's name is Miss Glenhoff and she is very kind.

We are going to have a fair at Seattle. I have some drawings to be sent there. I would like for you to go, and as you go by, come and see Spokane city.

will close for this time. Hoping to hear from you soon, and about your city and what you play. Yours truly, NAOMA RATLIFF.

My address is, E 803 B road Ave.

Commission Reports Log Rules.

The Maine State Legislature in 1907 appointed a commission of three, with the Forest Commissioner as ex-officio member, to investigate the methods of scaling logs and lumber and to report to the next Legislature. On this Commission William J. Langan of Waterville, Fred A. Gilbert and Hosea B. Buck of Bangor, and Edgar E. Ring, Forest Commissioner, were appointed by Governor Cobb. It is a commission of practical business men from wood-using industries. After holding hearings in the different lumbering districts of Maine, the following conclusions were reached:

"The method of measuring manufactured lumber seems satisfactory and no change is recommended.

"The lack of uniformity in methods of scaling logs leads to great confusion and general dissatisfaction on the different rivers in Maine.

"The log rules in use, especially the New Hampshire and the Maine or Holland rules, give fair results only for short logs, but are unsatisfactory for longer logs.

"The board foot is not the proper unit for log measure since it is relevant only in case of lumber manufacture, but is entirely irrelevant in pulp, staves, veneer, and other wood industries.

"The cubic foot should be the unit of measure, and each manufacturer should calculate the product he could manufacture in board feet, pounds of pulp, number of staves and square feet of veneer, and report the same to the log scaler.

"The contract logger figuring in cubic feet would then be paid according to the weight he handles, whether the logs are large or small. In contracting by the thousand board feet, as is now done, he handles a large weight of small logs per thousand than large logs.

"The Commission recommends the substitution of a cubic foot caliper rule as the legal rule for Maine, arguing that besides applying to all industries involved it would aid economical logging and full utilization of material."

It is very evident that if log measurement is to be standardized for the entire country the cubic foot caliper rule applied at the mill of the log will be applicable for all states, all industries, all species, whatever their taper, and for long logs as well as short logs. While the volume is not entirely exact by the middle diameter method for very long logs, the error is very small in favor of the buyer. But it gives by far the better result in comparison with end diameter measurement, even when the latter method makes allowance for "rise" or taper.

If the Maine legislature adopts the rule recommended, the lumbermen and foresters say the State will be setting a standard rule that may be followed with profit by all the other states.

Suicide by Shooting.

Ernest Jordan, aged 38 years, a farmer who lived about three miles from Harrison village, committed suicide by shooting early Saturday morning. He had been in poor health for some time and he used a shot gun to end his life, evidently placing the muzzle in his mouth as the upper part of his head was blown completely off. Lying on his neighbor who called to see how he was that morning, found the body lying on the floor, and the deed had been committed but a short time before as the body was still warm. Mr. Jordan was the son of the late Marshall Jordan, at one time a trader in Harrison.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its cures that several of which have been ascertained by the electrical conducting firm of Ventres & Jones. His wife who also lost her life with the daughter, was a native of Scotland.

WEST SUMMER. Warren French is on the sick list. C. M. Bucknam went to North Paris, Saturday.

Chauncey A. Bucknam, who cut his foot, is so to be up.

Mrs. H. W. Davenport spent Sunday with Mrs. Etta Cox.

Alice Hadley and Bertha Bucknam spent Friday with Mrs. Etta Cox.

Burned to Death. Among the six people who lost their lives in the Lenox Mass. fire, was Edward C. Ventres, a native of Paris, Maine, but has been in business in this town for 12 years, several of which have been as a member of the electrical conducting firm of Ventres & Jones. His wife who also lost her life with the daughter, was a native of Scotland.

A Letter From South Dakota.

Burley, S. D., April 7th, 1909. I have lately received several letters from old time Lovell friends that will no doubt be of interest to many of your readers and send herewith extracts from the same. According to the church records I must have been mistaken about the meeting-house at the village being built before that at the Centre. I was but seven years old when the first church was built, but I can remember many things that happened then with great distinctness. And I cannot get it out of my head that the money that Doan's Stearns brought back from his soliciting tour was used to build the village church.

I saw some time ago that my old friend at schoolmate, James Cutler Stearns, had crossed the deep silent river of death, and I felt that a true and noble man had gone to his reward. He was several years my senior; and when at school a few mischievous boys would sometimes pick upon and try to torment poor, simple, foolish me, I always found in Cutler a friend and staunch defender. And while life lasts, the memory of his kindly deeds, will ever remain as bright spots of sunshine that cheered me through my schoolboy days.

One here in S. D. and I think all over the west, spring's work is starting in late, oat seeding began April 6th, and on the 6th, 4 inches of snow fell which is slowly melting. Our winter has been the hardest since 1891-2.

The first of May I expect to visit for two weeks with friends in Wyoming; then attend the L. O. F. Grand lodge which meets at Deadwood, S. D., May 13 to 21, then return home, and soon after go to Wayland, Ohio, for my summer vacation with my daughter and family.

The Hon. H. F. Andrews of Exira, sends me the following with regard to the Rev. Valentine Little (6th), William Coffin (5th), John (4th), Moses (3rd), and George (2nd) of the village of Lovell, N. H., Feb. 21, 1790; married 1st Nov. 9th, 1815, Mary, daughter of Lieut. Jonathan Clark of Bethel, born April 24, 1783, who died in Lovell, Jan. 26, 1881; married 2d Sept. 15, 1831, Almira, daughter of Rev. Nathan Church, born in Bridgton, Jan. 7, 1791, who died Feb. 5, 1879. He graduated from Dartmouth College in 1811, studied theology; moved to Bridgton in 1820, where he was principal of the Academy; moved to Lovell Center on the west side of the road opposite the Dea. Stearns farm, where Shas Head afterwards lived many years and now occupied by Dea. Albanos Pottle. He returned to Salisbury in his declining years, where he died June 4, 1852. Children by first wife: Salina Dodge born Oct. 1, 1816, married Major John Barker, Orsina Parker born Oct. 20, 1821, married Hon. Abraham A. As Helpless as a Child

Rheumatism the Cause

Finds Almost Immediate

Relief in Uric-O, The

Remedy Recommended Alone for this one Disease.

T. B. Singleton, 919 North Elizabeth

St. Lima, Ohio, advises all who suffer with Rheumatism, no matter what form to commence at once a Uric-O treatment, and find in it a harmless, speedy cure.

He writes as follows:

"After being stricken down with Rheumatism for four years, in which time I spent over $400.00 with doctors and treatments at Sanatoriums, I have found right here in my own town a remedy of wonderful merit. Through the recommendation of Druggist York-camp, I have used two bottles of Uric-O, and can truthfully say that it has done me more good than all the other medicines, baths and doctors combined.

I was at times as helpless as a child and could not even dress myself. Since taking Uric-O, I feel as active in my limbs as ever, I am again an able bodied man.

Anyone suffering with this terrible disease, should at once procure a bottle of this remedy.

Uric-O, is sold at Noyes Drug Store at 75c and $1.00 a bottle. You can obtain a liberal sample by writing to the Smith

Notes on Jewelry.

For day wear, amethysts are undoubt-

ly the fashion. The really well dressed woman has sets of these stones, long watch chains and brooch to match. In most of the hat pins the stones are elongated or spherical. There are some of the prettiest long chains in which the amethysts are cut square and quite flat, and the links of the chain are of gold and about half an inch in length. This is a smart design and looks equally well when worn with either a tailored or lingerie west. Lapis lazuli is also popular and becoming for brooches. Large square or diamond shaped ones, set in silver, are very stylish, worn at the throat to hold ones about in place.

Wonderful are the hat pins that will be part of the hat trimming this summer.

The heads are copied from antique jewelry in Italy and France, and strongly refect the revival of the old Byzantine period. Much of the jewelry now looks more like the kind sold by shops that deal in fancy costumes than it does of the 20th century. The beautiful marquise setting of tiny stones has been taken up. Some of these hat pins, therefore look like the exquisite circular things so much in fashion just now.

Down in the lesser prices, hat pins are still artistic. These are made of coe-shed pieces of crystals in exquisite settings, without stones or are mounted in quilt fashion in thick rims of silver gilt.

The imitation baroque pearl is more in evidence than ever. It comes in ball shape, in balloon shape, in dagger shape and in long slim points. These will be worn on hats of every color, and a woman should own a set of them if her hats follow widely different color schemes.

The large white crystal, well cut and mounted in a heavy loop, is one of the favorite hat pins for the every day

hat. It can be used also in combination with any color. It goes without saying that of yet there is the widest variety and choice. This will be worn on everything from ball gowns to linen costuits.

Hints for Business Women.

In considering the qualities in a woman which make for success in business,

I should rank first, second and third, the ability to hold her tongue about her business affairs. This quality would naturally include considerable tact. Then fourth and last, should come trustworthiness. I said last advisedly, for the world involves not only the keeping of promises made, but the ability to execute orders, the willingness to work long hours and the punctuality that so often means money

ALBANY.

Hearing on a Discontinued Road.

A large percentage of the tax payers were out at the town meeting held April 1st for the purpose of hearing an explanation on the road question which has been agitated for sometime, being the road that was discontinued a few years ago, leading from the valley road near Charlie Fernald's, up toward Hunt's road. It was satisfactorily explained by Ex Sheriff Wellington Bird, who has been a traveler over this road ever since a boy, and now lives on the old home-land. He had measured the road and gone over the number of rods to build, the condition of the road bed was in and about the cost of building, less than one hundred dollars. The land owners all offer to give the land damages, except one, possibly he might be persuaded. This road would be an accommodation, especially to the several families living in the old Marshall school district, who have to travel from three and one-half miles, to four miles, to get up to Hunt's Corner to attend church, grange meeting, circles and dances, whereas they would not have to travel only about a month old, also some more hens to come off soon.

GREENWOOD.

John H. Ring is confined to the house with a bad cold.

Fred J. Cole is at work for Arthur Noyes, carpentering.

Marshall Whitman has been sick with muscular rheumatism, the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. George N. Emmons have moved to their camp on the shore of Indian Pond.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. C. Cole's little babe is quite sick at the present writing, with bronchitis.

Arthur Cummings is clerking for Sylvester Cole in the store, as Mr. Cole is in rather poor health.

Westley and Herbert Ring are sawing wood with gasoline power, for the farmers of this section.

The doctors are kept quite busy, and the veterinary is getting a share of the work. The bad weather seems to effect the dumb animals as well as the human family.

FRYEBURG.

Good skating in town April 10.

J. L. Osgood is putting on a few more stone cutters.

The roads are in bad condition this spring, almost impassable to travel by team.

Hobson and Twombly were in town this week looking over the ground and buying material to start building their new factory.

Five hundred dollars were raised by the board of trade to contribute towards buying the lot where the factory will be built. Nothing backwards towards the board.

Great turn out at the church, Easter Sunday. Grand display of new spring hats and fine suits, dresses were worn. Although rain was falling, a native of this town thought it would be a treat to see how long it would take to dress!

Business is taking a little boom in real estate. C. A. McKeen has purchased the Snow residence, on which he will make some improvements. James Tarbox bought the Evans lot. It is stated he will erect a fine cottage house this summer. Mr. Only has sold a fine lot on Smith street for parties to erect a fine building. There are several houses for sale in town. Prices are held up high. Although rents are high there are always ready takers at the high price.

FRYEBURG CENTER.

Mrs. Rose Edwards has been quite sick the past three weeks, she is some better.

Mr. Alphons Holden went to Lewiston C. M. Hospital, Monday, to undergo a surgical operation.

Elmer Latulip, who is working at Buxton, visited relatives and friends in this vicinity recently.

Frank Latulip and all his family have been very sick with the severe colds that are prevailing in this vicinity.

WOODSTOCK.

Mrs. Wm. F. Harding.

Among the many worthy people who have recently passed away there are none more deserving of special mention than Mrs. Mary E. Harding, who died in Poland, March 17, aged 73 years.

She was sick nearly a year and passed away apparently with little suffering. A faithful wife, a devoted mother and a kind hearted neighbor she was ever ready to assist those in trouble or in sickness, in storm or night time. Of a cheerful disposition she had a good word and a kindly greeting for all and was respected by all who knew her.

She possessed great Christian fortitude and was ready to go whenever the summons came. In her religious belief, she was a Universalist. Her native place was Wolfboro, N. H., a daughter of the late David Blake of that town and was the last one of the family.

She is survived by her husband, Wm. F. Harding and three sons all of whom are married and have families. Since the close of the Civil war in which Mr. Harding was a soldier, with the exception of about two years at Rumford, where he lived in Woodstock where their four sons were born and grew to manhood, they were Frank, John, Charles and David. Frank resides in Minot and John in Haverhill, Mass. Charles was instantly killed in Rand's mill at East Milton, March 31, 1890. He was a fine young man and his terrible death nearly broke his poor mother's heart.

Last October, Mr. Harding moved to Poland with their son David and family and they were much pleased with their new home.

Her sons were all present at the funeral services which were held at her home, conducted by Rev. J. H. Little of South Paris. Her remains were placed in the tomb at Poland.

LOVELL.

Isaac B. McAllister.

Isaac B. McAllister died April 9, at his home in Lovell village. Mr. McAllister had been sick some time with heart trouble and other diseases.

He had been a life long resident of Lovell, his boyhood home, here at No. 4, where he also lived many years after his marriage, removing to the village only a few years ago. He was the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. McAllister, who still live here. This is a hard blow for them to their old age, and Mrs. McAllister is an invalid.

Mr. McAllister leaves a wife (Nellie Chandler) and one son, Marshall, also one brother, Edgar, and one sister, Mrs. Will Grover, besides many other relatives and a host of friends to mourn their loss.

He was a member of Kezar Valley Lodge I. O. O. F. and was P. N. G. of the Order. He was laid at rest by brothers of the Order, at No. 4, Cemetery, April 11, C. H. Brown having charge of the services, while Rev. Mr. Reeves spoke comforting words to the family. Mrs. McAllister is very poorly, having a weak heart herself, it makes it a very trying time for her.

Mr. McAllister was also a member of Suncook P. O. H., which was represented by a large delegation. He is a man that will be missed for he was ever genial and pleasant to meet, and being a villager of some note, he made many friends and acquaintances in the town.

Some years ago he was a commercial traveler, and after his removal to the village he worked for N. T. Fox, driving stage to Fryeburg, but lately has been connected with the Insurance business. His age was 51 years.

There was a profusion of beautiful floral offerings, a pillow of white roses from wife and son; 51 pinkies, Suncook grange; white roses and ferns, Mr. H. D. Walker and daughter, also many other places. The Center Lovell Christian church choir, with Mrs. Bessie Stearns as organist, gave some very pleasing selections.

FRYEBURG.

J. H. Walker went to Portland, Monday.

Guy Morse has sold his cow to A. A. Stearns.

F. A. Harmon has his cottage up and shingled.

D. W. True is having his buildings painted.

They are running the sawmill, sawing down stock.

N. T. Fox and B. E. Browne are in Boston this week.

W. C. Bassett was called to Fryeburg, Monday. His little boy is there sick.

E. C. Buzzell has completed his logging job on the intervalle timber he bought of Albertina Taburini.

Mrs. Isabel Noyes of Norway was a guest of George Noyes for several days last week, and is now at North Conway.

George Charles has finished his work at Chatham and boards when in the place at E. D. Abbott's. He is now visiting in Norway and South Paris.

The I. O. O. F. have been the past week changing the dining room at their hall from the upper to the lower floor, thinking it may be more convenient, and using the upper floor for dressing rooms.

We have two applicants for postoffice in this place. One is the village, Saturday, for examination as ordered, but no government official presented himself as per appointment and the matter remains undecided.

FRYEBURG.

Good skating in town April 10.

J. L. Osgood is putting on a few more stone cutters.

The roads are in bad condition this spring, almost impassable to travel by team.

Hobson and Twombly were in town this week looking over the ground and buying material to start building their new factory.

Five hundred dollars were raised by the board of trade to contribute towards buying the lot where the factory will be built. Nothing backwards towards the board.

Great turn out at the church, Easter Sunday. Grand display of new spring hats and fine suits, dresses were worn. Although rain was falling, a native of this town thought it would be a treat to see how long it would take to dress!

Business is taking a little boom in real estate. C. A. McKeen has purchased the Snow residence, on which he will make some improvements. James Tarbox bought the Evans lot. It is stated he will erect a fine cottage house this summer. Mr. Only has sold a fine lot on Smith street for parties to erect a fine building. There are several houses for sale in town. Prices are held up high. Although rents are high there are always ready takers at the high price.

FRYEBURG CENTER.

W. S. Day went to Norway Friday, by way of Portland for horses.

Mrs. Taburini is sick in Boston, where she generally boards winters.

Mrs. Eunice Benson of Harbor visited her sister, Mrs. C. P. Grey, recently.

Seven men are boarding at E. D. Abbott's, hanging a boom and making ready for the drive later.

Mrs. Newman and Hattie Pike of the village spent one day last week with George Noyes at his studio.

LOVELL.

Isaac B. McAllister.

Isaac B. McAllister died April 9, at his home in Lovell village. Mr. McAllister had been sick some time with heart trouble and other diseases.

He had been a life long resident of Lovell, his boyhood home, here at No. 4, where he also lived many years after his marriage, removing to the village only a few years ago. He was the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. McAllister, who still live here. This is a hard blow for them to their old age, and Mrs. McAllister is an invalid.

Mr. McAllister leaves a wife (Nellie Chandler) and one son, Marshall, also one brother, Edgar, and one sister, Mrs. Will Grover, besides many other relatives and a host of friends to mourn their loss.

He was a member of Kezar Valley Lodge I. O. O. F. and was P. N. G. of the Order. He was laid at rest by brothers of the Order, at No. 4, Cemetery, April 11, C. H. Brown having charge of the services, while Rev. Mr. Reeves spoke comforting words to the family. Mrs. McAllister is very poorly, having a weak heart herself, it makes it a very trying time for her.

Mr. McAllister was also a member of Suncook P. O. H., which was represented by a large delegation. He is a man that will be missed for he was ever genial and pleasant to meet, and being a villager of some note, he made many friends and acquaintances in the town.

Some years ago he was a commercial traveler, and after his removal to the village he worked for N. T. Fox, driving stage to Fryeburg, but lately has been connected with the Insurance business. His age was 51 years.

There was a profusion of beautiful floral offerings, a pillow of white roses from wife and son; 51 pinkies, Suncook grange; white roses and ferns, Mr. H. D. Walker and daughter, also many other places. The Center Lovell Christian church choir, with Mrs. Bessie Stearns as organist, gave some very pleasing selections.

FRYEBURG.

J. H. Walker went to Portland, Monday.

Guy Morse has sold his cow to A. A. Stearns.

The Argument

When it is known that its power to strengthen the system and build up the body is why Father John's Medicine cures colds, it will be understood why it is so valuable as a tonic and for driving the impurities out of the system. It feeds the tissues and makes strength; prevents pneumonia and consumption; not a patent medicine; pure and wholesome—50 years in use.

HEBRON.

KEZAR FALLS.

Porter High School Prize Speaking.
Porter High school did itself proud at the Prize Speaking contest held at the Knights of Pythias hall last Friday evening. Originally the contestants numbered 14, but one was obliged to drop out on account of ill health caused by overstudy. Heaven preserve us from ever being appointed a judge at a prize speaking contest or a baby show! for we would surely award a prize to every speaker and to every mother dearling, fully believing that each and every one deserved it. The speaking was much enjoyed. The program interspersed with music was as follows:

Invocation.....Florence May Fox
A garden plot.....Florence May Fox
The bridge keeper's story.....Frank Archie Kelley
Whispering Bill.....Mildred Hatch Phillips
The bewitched clock.....Catherine Maude Stacy
Abraham Lincoln, the patriot.....Charles Gann W. Fox
Christmas at the Gulch.....Blanche Mary Ridlon
The hidden robe.....Marion Julia Phillips
How the lair was won.....Three girls
Ruth's birthday.....Hazel Conway Jordan
How Ruby played.....Frank Andrew Weeks
Flowers.....Rita Clarinda Bachelder
The black horse and his rider.....Harold Guy Ridlon
The Master is coming.....Florence May Fox
Award of prizes.....Dorothy Pitts

The two first prizes, copies of Shakespeare, were awarded to Florence May Fox and Harold Guy Ridlon; the two second prizes to Blanche Mary Ridlon and Catherine Maude Stacy. The music and singing by the Lounge quartet assisted by Mr. Cole of East Paris, was very fine. The young people would find it an advantage to them if Mr. Cole could be induced to open a singing school here.

Florence R. Garner and Mrs. B. F. Ridlon were the committee in charge of the Easter concert given last Sunday evening in the Methodist church. A concert by the children and young people always fills the church to its utmost capacity. The program was finely rendered and the thanks of an appreciative audience are due the committee in charge and every one who had part in the program. F. R. Garner was organist. The program was as follows:

Lord a helping hand.....School
Prayer.....Rev. H. A. Peare
Recitation, We're glad to see you.....Mildred Stanley
Psalms.....Harry Granville
Recitation, Spring has come.....Sarah Weeks
The glad awakening.....Winifred Ridlon

Dialogue and song, Evermore fitting.....Tulene Vespe, Josephine, Maria Whitton, Nellie Hickey, Bessie Edgcomb Collection
Duet, Hear the message.....Vernon Gilpatrick, Nathan Lewis
Recitation, Easter lilies.....Emma Fox
God wants us to be glad.....Ida Stanley
Declaration, The awakening of the tulips.....Leon Wales
Ida Stanley, Leon Elliott, Harry Marryott
Declaration, An Easter egg.....Dorothy Boynton
Solo, Gather the blossoms of Easter.....Flora Ridlon
Declaration, What Easter means.....Orion Stanley
Recitation, Made over new.....Martha Whitton
Solo, Easter.....Vena Fox
Dialogue, Light of the world.....Ida Stanley, Leon Elliott, Harry Marryott, Leon Wales, Leon Fox, Laurence Gendeman
Song, There's a glory in the garden.....Young ladies and gentlemen

Rev. and Mrs. H. A. Peare will attend the conference at Berlin Falls, N. H., next week.

The Methodist Sunday School considers itself very fortunate in having as superintendent Sidney B. Stanley.

School on Parsonsfield side of the road opened Monday. Mrs. Gendeman is again appointed teacher to the great satisfaction of children and parents.

The High School in Porter is doing fine work under the able and conscientious leadership of Miss Shaw and her coadjutor, Miss Lougee. The students made a very good impression at the prize speaking last Friday evening.

A very pretty Easter service was held at the Congregational church, Sunday.

Blanche Wood is keeping house at the Town farm during her mother's visit in Harrison.

At the meeting held Monday, it was voted to give Rev. Stas, the minister who has been here, a call.

Sadie and Carrie Knight have a beautiful Clotilde Souper rose which has about 50 buds and roses.

Mrs. Charles Parker and daughter Dorothy arrived in town Saturday. Miss Parker will attend school at Bridgton Academy this spring.

SOUTH RUMFORD.

Youth and Aged.

Wallace Clark passed away March 31st after a few days' illness with the grip, which terminated in pneumonia. He has been ill with Bright's disease and under the care of a trained nurse for over thirty weeks but was around the house and went to the table to his meals until a few days before his death.

He leaves two sons, Philo B. Clark and Wallace F. Clark of Rumford, and two daughters, Mrs. Edwin E. Abbott of East Rumford and Mrs. Belle Jones of Derry, N. H. He lived with his son, Wallace F., and funeral services were held there April 2, conducted by Rev. Mr. Webber of Mechanic Falls. Had he lived until May he would have been eighty-five years old.

The neighborhood was saddened by hearing of the death of little Anna Keene, youngest child of John and Florence Keene, who live on the Holland place on the Swain road. Mr. Keene's family moved from Hall Hill a year ago. It is thought the child's death was caused by the effects of diphtheria with which she was sick about two months ago. Her age was 2 years and 8 months.

Spring Clothing

Our enthusiasm for the new Spring Suits and Top Coats which we are now showing is based on the results our customers get from them. It's worth a great deal to us to know that when we sell a suit or a top coat we're giving our customers big values for his money; and that he's going to get the value out of it. Good fabric counts in the wear; so does good tailoring; and the correct style is a powerful factor in your satisfaction. We do ourselves good when we do you good; and the clothes we offer you this spring do it.

Daniel A. Stevens.
On Wednesday, April 7, occurred the death of Daniel A. Stevens at his home in York Village.
Mr. Stevens was born at Norway on July 28, 1816. He served in the war of the Rebellion. In 1877 he located in York. For several years he conducted a grocery store at York Harbor but after the death of his brother-in-law, Wilson Walker, he took charge of his store at York Village.
Mr. Stevens belonged to the order of Masons, and was also a member and deacon of the First Congregational church. For many years he was a prime mover in the Veterans' Association at York.
In the early part of the winter he was taken sick and confined to the house nearly all the time. The early part of last week he had a sudden attack of acute bronchitis which resulted in his death.
He leaves a daughter, Mrs. Walter Badger, one sister and two brothers. Funeral services were held at the house on Friday at 2 o'clock.
The York Transcript says of him: "During the years which Mr. Stevens has lived in York he has gained the love and admiration of all who knew him. His death comes as a sudden shock to all, as it was expected that his recovery was a certainty."

NORWAY AND VICINITY.
Birds are arriving every day and the bird lovers find themselves busy if they greet them all.
The Dennis Pike Real Estate Agency has negotiated the sale of the Harriman place, on the corner of Cottage and Summer streets, to Jessie M. Fogg.
Bruce Hosmer, the five-year old son of Herbert Hosmer, found a small grasshopper Sunday, the 11th, and brought it to the ADVERTISER office Monday morning, as a convincing sign that spring is here although the days are still cold.
Dogs may be a trouble but it must be a pretty cruel and depraved person to pour scalding water over a dumb beast. Eugene Hayden's pet dog was badly scalded and had one eye nearly destroyed the other day. Here is work for the society with a long name.
The Easter music at the Universalist church, Sunday evening, was attended by a very large audience who came to hear the beautiful Easter music and hear the little folks recite their Easter pieces. Some time before the services were to commence the auditorium was filled and extra seats were brought in to accommodate a large number. The program as printed last week was finely rendered and the sweet music, recitations and readings were all thoroughly appreciated. The altar was very prettily decorated with evergreen arches, potted plants and Easter lilies, giving the church a very pretty effect.

A notable gathering of medical men will be witnessed in New York city next month, when the forty-ninth annual commencement exercises of the New York Homeopathic Medical College will be held and the alumni of the college will hold their annual banquet on Wednesday and Thursday, May 12 and 13. Many will spend the entire week in the metropolis, for the college has arranged a special clinical week beginning May 10, to which all homeopathic practitioners are invited without charge. Norway is interested in the college because of the presence there of one of its young men, Stephen P. Jewett, who will graduate next year.
William W. Burlingame, who has made a good record as a member of the New Hampshire legislature, was a clerk in the Blue Store at Norway when that was under the management of Theodore L. Webb, and was also the slide trombone player in the Norway band and orchestra. New Hampshire people told the story that he has refrained from speaking in the legislature but has been an efficient worker in committees and consultations, and that he demonstrated a capacity for getting work done. That last is the principal thing, anyway, and a legislator who does that is a success.

Mrs. Powers' Millinery Opening.
Fashion.
Fair Eve devised a walking suit
Of jungle grasses, soft and crimping;
She thought it was never used and cut
But Adam grunted, "Rather skimpy"
A cloak of palm leaves, sought for miles,
She made, and came to be admired;
But Adam said, "The silly styles
You women wear just make me tired!"
She built herself a little hat
Of lilies (Eve was very clever),
And asked him what he thought of that!
And Adam blurted, "Why, I never!"
So next she placed upon her head
A feathered tier of e-by-four creation.
The little word that Adam said
Is barred from parlor conversation.
Yet Eve refused to be a dowl,
And tied an autumn-tinted sash on.
"For what does Adam know of fashion?"
"For what does Adam know of fashion?"
He scoffs and says I am not ready.
Well, then my law shall be my whim—
Two tons shall change with every season."
Since when, revolving eyes and heads,
The gayest fashions and the queerest,
Adam declares, "It's just the thing!"
While Adam murmurs, "It is, dear!"

It has been said in the older physiologies that "man is fearfully and wonderfully made," and the saying is equally true of the spring hat. The average man knows but little concerning women's hats, nor can he follow the wanderings of the master minds that originate the styles from year to year. To him they are ever a source of wonder and often appear to be the result of accident rather than design, but he is seldom rash enough to venture any adverse criticism whatever the shape, and so the hats are left for the admiration and enjoyment of their wearers.
To the average mortal the feminine headgear appears to grow more striking from year to year and those of the coming season seem to have reached the limit.
A hat which will without doubt be very popular suggests an inverted wash dish, or the hats worn by John Chinaman on his native heath. Some of these hats are trimmed with a simple wreath of roses or other flowers, and in some the floral display is combined with ribbons. Still others of the same model are filled in underneath with chiffon or some other light fluffy material, while the decoration of the "dome" is restricted to an artistic arrangement of ribbon and two long wavy plumes. This hat is worn tilted on one side to give a smart effect, and perhaps also to show the filling.
There is a hat, an ample straw affair, similar in proportion and shape to those which we used to wear when we went about two seasons. This hat is not regular in shape and the more irregular it is the better it is apparently suited to the season. Some of them look as if they had been caught in the rain as they had been caught in the door. Still others are rolled up a trifle in front, or at one side, or even all the way round. Some of them are decorated by a wide band of ribbon, and on one side in a bow almost equal to the width of the hat itself, others with a spray of fruit or berries, and still others with a rose or two as big as an oyster bowl, but when it is trimmed and on the head of a pretty girl it is quite a different matter.
Mrs. R. L. Powers was not able to be at the store at the opening, but it is hoped a little later she will be able to attend to the business as she is very much better. Mrs. V. W. Hills, Mrs. Charles Carroll, Josie Kay and Miss Jenne from South Paris were the only ones in charge and they were kept busy. There were 120 trimmed hats shown.
The window was in green and white, and a white suit of white muslin, a white of white pyroxine braid, band of fillet of lace, the new ostrich novelty, sunflower rosette, black velvet ribbon caught with a jet cabochon.
Catawba and abbinthe are the fashionable colors. Though these may be the pronounced leaders among the new shades, nearly all colors are used in this year's millinery. In the greens are reseda, myrtle and apple.
While the crowns of the hats are very large they are trimmed so severe and the trimming so huge the hat they do not have a larger effect on the head than many a smaller crown of by-gone seasons with airy trimming and bows.
We looked over some of the pretty hats. A black jet turban had for trimming a bunch of fruit from which drooped two graceful ostrich feathers. An amethyst turban was made of satin braid with a band of amethyst velvet and bow, a large rose of a lighter shade and a bow of cherries and foliage, with a butterfly bow of catwba shades with lilac foliage.
The original Billie Burke in wood color straw trimmed with a simple bow of two shades of green ribbon with a band of jet beads and a jet cabochon. A catawba turban made of cable ribbon sewed on in a pattern, a sunflower ribbon rosette in same shade with a black feather from the center of the rosette.
A revival of the popular Charlotte Corday had a crown of hand-embroidered figured chiffon in white and pink, around which was a wreath of apple blossoms, lace draped around rim and a flat pink bow in back. A bluet Gainsborough with large crown of spotted net, one big pink rose on left side. An old Alice bluet turban, faced with white, two white ostrich plumes, rosette of forget-me-nots. A bucket shape with Tuscan hand and rim, and a black fancy braid tam crown, black wing. A French poke in wood shades, "the hat in lighter wood, the three large ostrich feathers in darker and the streamers in the two shades, roses in pastel shades.
A black mushroom made of jet lace with edge of lace, big velvet bow in back and a small bunch of moss roses on the side. A bonnet for the who wears white pyroxine braid, trimmed with pink ribbon and ties, pink apple blossoms and white forget-me-nots. A misses hat, very large Manila with a big bow of steel blue lace covered the crown, steel buckle. Another misses hydrangea hat of Tuscan chip, bow of green velvet, crown covered with pink, blue and green hydrangeas.
Some hats have jaw strings, i. e., a band of silk or other material, an inch or more wide that goes under the chin or jaws, something the way children used to hold their hats on with elastic. These new things is the circular band. These are made to go in the crown of the hat or rather the huge hats rest on these bands. That holds the hats up off the hair and saves disarranging the hair. It also gives a more stylish effect to the hat.

AFTER SUFFERING TEN YEARS

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
MARLTON, N. J.—I feel that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has given me new life. I suffered for ten years with serious female troubles, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion, nervousness, and could not sleep. Doctors gave me up, as they said my troubles were chronic. I was in despair, and did not care whether I lived or died, when I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I began to take it, and am well again and relieved of all my suffering. —Mrs. GEORGE JORDY, Box 40, Marlton, N. J.
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.
If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

First Day of April Joke.

The President of the First National of Sias H. Burnham is president of the above bank, and he is a former Norway boy. His friends here will read the story copied from a Lincoln paper with a smile.
President Sellock and secretary Whitten of the Commercial club, S. H. Burnham, W. E. Hardy and S. A. Foster did not take lunch today with L. W. Hill, head of the Great Northern and Burlington systems, in his private car. But it was not the first time.
Mr. Sellock was tasting his soup and Mr. Foster was considering whether he would take ham and boiled cabbage at the Commercial club dining room, when a lady Whitten rushed in and remarked:
"Louie Hill, head of the Great Northern, is down in the yards in his private car and wants some of us to come down and take lunch with him. Will you go?"
"Sure," said Mr. Sellock. "Certainly," said Mr. Foster. "I will drop the napkins. J. W. McDonald was just about to order. Whitten called to him to come along. Mr. McDonald looked regretful. Said he had to meet Paul at 12:30. Would like very much to go but couldn't."
"Get Burnham," suggested Mr. Sellock. Mr. Whitten called up the First National.
"Delighted," said Mr. Burnham. "Stop for me. Just outside W. Hill's, president of club, was encountered on his way to lunch. Would he go along? You bet. Down the street hurried the four. At the First National they dropped their hats to get Mr. Burnham. He was talking business with a customer, but with an "excuse me" he grabbed his hat and rushed out as though he had been summoned to a fire.
"But this is really a little ahead of the story."
Just before Mr. Whitten was about to lunch he was called to the phone. This is the conversation that followed:
"This is Mr. Whitten?"
"Yes."
"This is Sauer of Minneapolis, with the Burlington. Do you remember me?"
"Yes, I do. How are you?"
"Very nicely thank you. Mr. Hill is here at the Burlington station and would like to have you and some of the club lunch with him. Can you come?"
"Would be very glad to," replied Mr. Whitten.
"Bring four with you, we have room for five," said the voice.
"I'll get them," replied the accommodating Mr. Whitten.
He did. Down to the Burlington depot he went. Mr. Sellock was mentally preparing his usual address of welcome. Mr. Burnham was telling what a fine fellow this man Hill is. At the depot there was no special car in sight.
"Where is Mr. Hill's special?" asked Mr. Whitten of an official.
"He isn't in town that I know of?" was the reply.
"Oh yes he is. His representative invited me to lunch with him. He is here," confidently remarked Mr. Whitten.
"Oh did he? By phone I suppose? Maybe you don't know what day this is?"
Then they tumbled. Everybody grumbled but rather laborously.
"Well I wasn't over to the club," said Mr. Burnham. "They won't know I was there."
The quietest didn't have the courage to return to the club for lunch. They took it at the depot, and then engaged a town singly and by the back way. A meeting will be held to take ways and means to get even with one George J. Woods.
And over at the club the story went the rounds, and sedate business men rolled on the sofas and laughed and waited for Whitten to get back.

John W. S. Hodgdon has been put in charge of the Horace Mitchell grammar school at Kittery Point village, the public grammar school of that part of Kittery and will work there on April 5. Mr. Hodgdon taught the 8th grade here last year. He was hired with special instruction that he keep order in that grade, and we have it on authority that he is an excellent disciplinarian.

Administrator's Sale of Real Estate.

By virtue of license from the Honorable Judge of Probate for the County of Oxford, I shall sell at Public Auction to the highest bidder therefor, at my office in Fryeburg, Maine, on Wednesday, the first day of May A. D. 1939, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, so much of the following described real estate, as may be necessary, under the terms of said license, and which was of the estate of the late James Head of said Fryeburg, viz.:

One undivided half in common and undivided with William E. Thompson and Lydia E. Head, in Lovell, Maine, described in deed from Receding Mortgagee to said James Head, recorded in Oxford Western District Registry of Deeds in Book 50, Page 33, viz.:

On the east side of the main road leading from Lovell to Stockholm, as first corner of this parcel, running southeasterly to the corner of Harris C. McKean's land on the south, thence on line of said McKean's land to the southeasterly corner of number twenty-six in the fifth division of lots in said town, thence westerly to the shore of the Kearsar Pond, to a stake and stones, thence in a southeasterly direction, following the shore of Kearsar Pond, to land of Webb Abbott, thence northwesterly by Abbott's land to said road, thence by the east line of said road to the first bound, reserving the barn above named.

Also one half in common and undivided with said Lydia E. Head of the homestead lot and building thereon at the "Harbor" in Fryeburg, occupied by intestate at his decease.

EDWARD E. HASTINGS, 14-16
Administrator of the Estate of James Head, Fryeburg, March 28th, 1939.

Cruel Drivers—Are You One?

1. Did you ever use the whip when not absolutely necessary?
2. Is your horse bright-eyed and happy, or is his eye dull and his heart heavy with the miseries of over-loading, fast driving or your severities and neglect?
3. Do you frequently rest him, and favor him when the road is soft, or the load heavy, or the grade upward?
4. Do you distress him with a check rein (a cruel strap), or obstruct his sight with blinders, or expose him to torment of flies by shortening his tail or mite?
5. Do you clip his legs in the fall or winter (a rank cruelty)?
6. Do you protect him as much as possible from storms, cold winds, severe weather, and from hot summer sun?
7. Are you careful to have him regularly fed, frequently watered, to keep his stable bright and clean, light and wholesome and his bed free from coals, sticks and other discomforts?
8. Do you frequently oil the axils, lest they become dry and grow to increase his toil, and often change his shoes lest pain and lameness result?
9. Does he regard you as his kind and considerate friend—or his dreaded taskmaster?
10. Do you realize that he has no voice to tell his distress and must rely on you and to you to protect him from misery? Are you forbearing, kind and patient with him? Do you study his comfort and treat him as you would wish were you in his place?
11. Are you a cruel man—if you do not?

In Five Minutes.

Take your sour stomach—or maybe you call it indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gastritis or Catarrh of Stomach; it doesn't matter—take your stomach trouble right with you to your Pharmacist and ask him to open a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin and let you eat one 22-grain Triangule and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your stomach misery.

The correct name for your trouble is Food Fermentation—food souring; the Digestive organs become weak, there is lack of gastric juice; your food is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, griping in bowels, tenderness in the pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, biliousness, sick headache, nervousness, dizziness and many other similar symptoms.

If your appetite is fickle, and nothing tempts you, or you belch gas or if you feel bloated after eating, or your mouth fills like a lump of lead, or your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself, after your next meal, that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or misery.

Almost instant relief is waiting for you. It is merely a matter of how soon you take a little Diapiesin.

I shot an arrow into the air, it fell in the distance, I knew not where, till a neighbor said that it killed his calf, and I had to pay him six and a half ($6.50). I bought some poison to slay some rats and my neighbor swore it killed his cats; and, rather than argue across the fence, I paid him four dollars and fifty cents ($4.50). One night I set sailing, a toy balloon, and hoped it would soar till it reached the moon; but the candle fell on to a farmer's straw, and he said: I must settle or go to law. And that is the way with the random shot; it never hits in the proper spot; and the joke you spring, that you think so smart, may have a wound in some fellow's heart.

Fashion's Innovations.

The first impression one receives from a survey of the new spring models is of a subtle change somewhere in the general style—a closer study reveals that the skirts are wider and the waistline lowered by at least an inch. There are still the long, graceful lines, and the waist is slanted toward the front, but there is less of the clinging, clinging characteristics, because the fullness is—not always, but very often—let in below the knees in the form of an inserted panel, and this has a tendency to break the continuity of line, even though it does not interfere with the apparent length. In an infinite number of ways this effect is accomplished without marring the still desirable appearance of simplicity or getting any farther away from the tailored aspect, than frequently revealed in all modes of the waning season.

The later skirts are gored, but, where the circular is deemed preferable, it is out with quite an exaggerated flare, lest they become dry and grow to increase the bulk. The three, four and six piece skirts are most used among the gored varieties, as they can be more satisfactorily adjusted to the new adaptation of the Diorconic silhouette. A great many of the skirts hint at drapery and this fact also emphasizes that the trend is toward more fullness.

They are delightful, all of these draperies, so simple that they are effective. An Empire skirt that is slightly fluted around the waist line, cut circular, is cascaded down the front, giving excellent scope for band trimming or braiding with the new white smooth tulle, becoming to the public with equal effectiveness the cascading sometimes is allowed to fall at one side, and then there is usually a girde of silk at the top, knotted, and with long ends that fall alongside.

The classical Princess is a favorite, and several types of it are being adopted for at-home wear. They are fitting or semi-fitting, and have the modified Empire effect at the back. It is difficult to trim these silhouettes, and they do not appear wrapper-like, even the close-fitting ones, and therefore all sorts of applied devices are resorted to, such as, for instance, bolero effects suggested by braid or embroidery, or the insertion of a band at one side, and that extending not more than 12 or 14 inches.

Storing Winter Clothes.

A little care bestowed at this time of the year before the winter clothes are put away may greatly increase their usefulness next season, and the great secret in keeping fur and woolen garments safe from moth is in the thorough cleaning before they are put away, for if a moth goes into the closet or packing box with them damage cannot be prevented.

All woolen articles should be carefully looked over before putting away and every spot of every description carefully cleaned for moths always seize upon a spot of every sort as a choice morsel.

The first step is to remove every article from closets, wardrobes and other receptacles where woolen clothing is to be stored.

Clothes moths have a decided aversion for newspapers, and it is well to use them plentifully when packing away winter clothes. Woolen garments, blankets and wool comforts should receive attention as soon as they can be spared.

A thorough inspection should be given to all winter clothing and if any moth holes are found, the cleaning with warm water in which a little powdered borax is dissolved. If actual washing is necessary wash all the woolen garments in warm soft water, and boxes should be used in the proportion of a tablespoonful to the gallon of water as all articles washed in this way will be soft and clean and cleanliness is the best safeguard against moths.

Moths delight in nesting on furs, bird wings and other ornaments in millinery and the best way to preserve them is to line paper boxes with old muslin all around the inside of the box, then put in the articles and place camphor balls through the muslin. The strips of paper over the joining of the band box and cover and set the box away in a dark place.

Bags of all sizes and descriptions are invaluable at this time of the year for holding fur, woolen garments, and other made of any old soft material, but there must be no hole in the fabric large enough for a moth miller to creep in.

Athletics.

There seems to be among some people a common idea that the various forms of athletics among our high schools and colleges does more harm than good. Indeed a number of people are inclined to think that athletics in general are "relics of barbarism."

Although we are not all athletes, yet we feel it our duty to defend all just and honorable outdoor sports which are common to-day among our schools. All who are at all acquainted with the situation know that a great deal of the criticism comes from misunderstanding the spirit of the sport.

Some claim that the class of athletics generally found in our schools are the so-called "muckers." Who is it that knows the situation will believe this charge? If we judge athletics from our local institutions we are fully convinced that no cleaner or manly boys play than those on the athletic teams.

It seems to me that if any fault is to be found it is the fact that athletics are obliged to spend a great deal of their time on the athletic field. However, the schools of today are not considered primarily a place for study but rather an institution which makes and develops the man.

School life indeed might be classed as a world in miniature. The students are not desirous to stay back in the harness of their studies, but they are anxious to represent their school in some way whether it is in athletics or some organization connected with the school. However, if the students are physically fitted they as a matter of course will take part. For it is they are to win the respect of his fellows they must do something.

Again, shall we adopt the universal saying that athletics are in general unimportant? There seems now no general or convincing argument that this principle is so. Recently statistics were presented by one of our Main school's showing that the honor students were among the athletes of the school. One must realize the physique in order to do the best mental work.

Realizing therefore that the idea of school life is to make an all round development we fully sympathize with the athletes of our schools and believe that a great deal of criticism is uncalled for.

True Hospitality.

You have all heard the story of the truly hospitable Southern man, who, when unexpected travelers were forced to remain over night beneath his roof, set them down to a supper table bearing only bread, radishes and water, with never an apology of any sort.

I wonder how many women could have stood such a nerve-racking test of hospitality without overwhelming the strangers within their gates with apologies for the meager repast? And yet the truly hospitable person is he who gives the best he has with a grace that precludes any criticism.

Why Wood Decays.

Some of the Methods of Treating It to Prevent Decay.

Piles driven by the but dwellers of the Baltic centuries ago are as sound today as when first placed. The wooden columns with the Egyptian pyramids, though dead are still preserved in perfect condition after thousands of years of air vice.

The longevity of timber under these two extremes of climate and moisture conditions has naturally made people ask, What causes wood decay? The answer is, fungi and bacteria, low forms of plant life which live in the wood and draw their nourishment from it.

The little organisms are so minute that a microscope is required to see them, yet their work results in the destruction of billions of feet of timber each year and the railroad corporation with its cross ties is running up into seven figures and the farmer who spends a hundred dollars or so a year for fence posts are alike drawing upon the knowledge of experts in all parts of the world in effort to learn the most economical and most satisfactory method of preserving wood against the inroads of decay.

In studying the means of preventing decay wood preserving experts have learned many things about the obnoxious fungi which sap the life of the timber.

The small organisms can grow either in light or in total darkness; but all of them require requisite amounts of air, food, moisture and heat. If one or more of these essential requirements is lacking they can not live, and the decay of timber will not take place. Wood constantly submerged in water never rots, simply because there is an insufficient supply of air. This condition accounts for the soundness of the old Baltic piles.

On the other hand, if wood can be kept air dry it will not decay because there will be too little moisture. The timber used by the Egyptians will last indefinitely so long as it is bone dry.

There are a great many cases, however, where it is impossible to keep wood submerged in water, or in an absolutely air dry condition. In fact, a large percentage of the timber which is used is exposed to the weather, and is subjected to decay simply because it contains enough air and enough water for the decomposing organisms to get a foothold. Decay is most serious where the atmosphere is warm and damp, because these conditions are most favorable for its development.

In the coal mines of Pennsylvania, timber decays in two or three years because the temperature is warm and constant and the air is damp. And in the south, the warm, humid atmosphere often causes the timber to rapidly decompose.

Decay may be prevented by two general methods, by treating the wood with antiseptics, thus poisoning the food supply of the organisms which cause decay, or by treating it with chemicals and making it waterproof. A combination of these two methods is most commonly used, as when wood is treated with creosote which fills up the pores in the timber and keeps out water and is also a powerful antiseptic.

Doctors

say take Cod Liver Oil—they undoubtedly mean Scott's Emulsion.

It would be just as sensible for them to prescribe Quinine in its crude form as to prescribe Cod Liver Oil in its natural state. In the oil is emulsified and made easy to take—easy to digest and easy to be absorbed in to the body—and is the most natural and useful fatty food to feed and nourish the wasted body that is known in medicine today.

Scott's Emulsion

Nothing can be found to take its place. If you are run-down you should take it.

MR. AND MRS. EDWARD HAMMILL,
MRS. W. F. FORTENSON,
MRS. CHAS. STAPLES,
Oxford, Me., April 12, 1909.

OXFORD.

Three Deaths.
Emma, wife of Charles Bumpus, died Friday, April 9th, at their home on High street.

Mrs. Bumpus was the daughter of Edward Hammill and Jane Gillan, was born in Leeds, England, and was fifty years of age. Her parents moved to this country when she was sixteen years old.

As a child she was a favorite among her companions, always a peacemaker, and at home was naturally quiet and industrious.

There was a strong bond of sympathy between her and her parents, especially the father, who always depended upon her Emma. As a wife she endeavored herself to her husband in many ways. Her home was always a model of neatness and her household duties were performed with a cheerfulness and happy disposition that go a long way toward making life pleasant.

Mrs. Bumpus had a remarkable vein of sympathy and wherever trouble, sickness or death existed, there you would find her ready with words of kindness and acts of love to smooth the pathway of the sick and pain racked body, and administer words of comfort to troubled and sorrowing friends.

There was a warm place in the truest sense of the word and her death left a gap in the husband's life that time alone can heal.

Mrs. Bumpus was a member of the Pythian Sisters and Woman's Relief Corps and as a member was beloved by them all. The Pythian Sisters met in Sons of Temperance hall at one p. m., marched to the church and attended the services in a body.

The funeral services were held Sunday at 1.30 p. m. in the Congregational church, the Rev. Mr. Pettengill officiating. The church was filled to overflowing with the relatives, members of the organizations and her host of friends.

The floral offerings were profuse but very neat and tastefully arranged. The following is a list of those who brought and sent flowers:

Chas. H. Bumpus—Wreath with word, Wife. Mrs. Wm. Fortenon, South Manchester, Conn.—Cross with the word, Sister. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kavanaugh, Portland—Pinks.

George Kavanaugh and Mrs. E. A. Kavanaugh, Portland—Pinks and roses. Bertha Kavanaugh—Pinks.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hanson—Pinks. Mrs. J. A. Kavanaugh—Pinks.

Pythian Sisters—Crescent with word, Sister. Woman's Relief Corps—Wreath.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thomas—Pinks. Mrs. H. E. Farnham—White tulips.

Mrs. and Miss Frost—Pinks. Sarah Dunbar—Pinks and Easter lilies. Mrs. Louisa Richmond—Pinks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bowser—Pinks and Easter lilies. Horace Pike and family, Norway—Pinks.

Mrs. Condon and family—Pinks and Easter lilies. Mr. and Mrs. Trebilcock—Pinks.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dyer, Otisfield—Cut flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. John Neal, Auburn—Pinks. Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Hosmer, Norway—Pinks. Mr. Hannaford, Gorham—Pinks.

Interment was in Oxford cemetery.

Jennie K., wife of Charles Bumpus, died at the asylum in Augusta, Monday, April 12. Mrs. Bumpus was the daughter of M. T. Haskell and Margaret Brown and was forty years of age. Mrs. Bumpus was in ill condition several years and was finally taken to the asylum at Augusta for treatment. The change did not benefit her as she steadily declined in health and strength until she passed away. Mrs. Bumpus is survived by her husband, Charles Bumpus; father, M. T. Haskell; and two brothers, Dr. W. B. Haskell and O. B. Haskell. The funeral services were held at their residence on King street at 9 a. m. Wednesday, Rev. Mr. Farnsworth being the officiating clergyman. The interment was in the Oxford cemetery.

Mrs. Stephen Jilison died Monday, April 12, at their residence near the G. T. station. Mrs. Jilison was 72 years of age. The remains of Mrs. Jilison were taken Wednesday to the Free Will Baptist church in Otisfield, where the funeral services were held at 1 p. m. The interment was in the cemetery adjoining the church.

Mrs. Annie Potterton of South Manchester, Conn., who came here to attend the funeral of her sister, Mrs. Emma Bumpus, is stopping in town for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Holden and Hattie Andrews entertained a party of friends on Monday evening at their home in honor of Mrs. Farnsworth of South Framingham, Mass., the mother of Rev. Mr. Farnworth, who is their guest for the week.

I wish to inform the people who visit the schoolhouse at night that our schoolhouse is for the use and instruction of our scholars only. And those who visit the schoolhouse for other purposes are warned to cease their visits or they will be severely dealt with.

An interesting service was held at the Methodist church on Easter Sunday. In. sons were baptized and seven received into the church. The pastor, Rev. W. Smith of East Poland. A short but impressive sermon and fine singing by the choir was greatly enjoyed by the large audience present.

Friends of Charles McGee, the Mexican man, who has been missing for five months, have received news that his dead body has been found in Boston. No particulars were given in the telegram.

Mr. McGee was an electrician in the Oxford paper mill and during the strike in November he tried to obtain work in Boston. Since Dec. 5 his friends have heard nothing from him and the Boston police have been working on the case.
